28. (a) Here is its solution
(b) i. and respective solution
ii. and respective solution
(c) solution
29. solution can have math as well
30. and this comes from the hyperref package: `google.com`
31. solution
32. (a) And the number of lines the solution will take up
(b) If solution size is not explicitly given, it'll try to guess based on the solution you've written. If you write a really long solution, then it will try to allocate more space for the student to match. But sometimes you want to write a long, detailed solution even though the expected solution may not be as long, so it's better to specify the expected number of lines.
33. and they should work
34. (a) free
(b) response
(c) questions
35. ok
36. of course
