

Subtitle

Title

Student Name: _____

Date: _____

Any other info: _____

The order of modules within sections roughly corresponds to the order in which they're generated as tex. For example, putting the subtitle module before the title module results in the subtitle being rendered above.

Throughout the exam, you can use the following bangs: `gap` (which inserts vertical space), `img` (which inserts an image with the given filename and renders it at the given width), `options` (where you can toggle certain formatting options), and `newpage` (self explanatory).

Write legibly

28. A question can have parts and subparts

(a) Here is a part

(b) Here is another part

i. Its first subpart

ii. Next subpart

(c) Last part

29. You can put math here: $y = mx + b$ or alternatively

$$i\hbar \frac{\partial \Psi}{\partial t} = -\frac{\hbar^2}{2m} \frac{\partial^2 \Psi}{\partial x^2} + V\Psi$$

if you like this better.

30. You can include commands from packages imported in the header. These come from the physics package:

$$\nabla^2 \nabla \cdot \nabla \frac{d}{dx}$$

31. Quotation “marks” and % symbols are preserved

32. (3 points) Indicate point values by preceding questions with curly bracketed numbers

(a) question1

(b) question2

33. You can also directly put some \LaTeX commands in here

sss

Lorem ipsum blah blah

If you want to insert your own L^AT_EX for whatever reason, you can do it here.
